A MESSAGE FROM OUR RABBI

SUMMERTIME AND THE LIVIN' IS JEWISH

Here are just a few reasons why the title of this article can prove true.

1 Summer Camp. Many of our members send their children to Jewish summer camp and to camps that are not officially Jewish but include Friday night services, bar/bat mitzvah tutoring, and Jewish songs. A few of our adult members still go to camp! (Andy Kaufman has been a camp doctor for many years. Jill Hayden teaches art, Barry Alpert teaches woodworking, and Karen Weiss, our Hebrew School principal, is a supervisor at camp.) Jewish camp is a great way to make friends, have fun, and develop skills and independence, all while strengthening Jewish learning and identity. Children who attend Jewish summer camp are 45% more likely than their peers to attend synagogue as adults. If you are new to Jewish camping, you are not alone. Over 20,000 American kids attended Jewish camp for the first time during each of the last two summers. There are many scholarships available, and our area is blessed with a Federation camp concierge, Melissa Levine, who can be reached at (201) 820-3978 or melissal@jfnj.org

2 Lighter Schedules & Shabbos. Lighter schedules can mean more leisure to really enter into Shabbos. Shabbat begins later, so you don't feel you have "missed it" because the sun went down two hours before your office closed. CBI is sponsoring home hospitality for Shabbat meals and get-togethers over the summer. See the Ritual article later in this issue, and please join us! You can take a hand in helping to lead the prayers or a Torah discussion or d'var Torah (sermon) on a Friday night when our clergy are out of town. The smaller summer crowd will be welcoming and supportive, and the learning you gain will be priceless. Please contact the Ritual committee to participate.

The word Shabbat/Shabbos can be translated as pause, rest, or sit. Over the summer, many of us take a breather from our usual hectic schedules. When you are on vacation or sitting and relaxing at home, make that time even more restful and meaningful by lighting Shabbat candles, singing a Shabbat song, blessing your kids, and joining with your family and community in prayer.

3 Lighter Schedules & Torah. Leisure hours in the summer also afford more time for reading and learning. Many Jews follow a "daf (page) a day" regimen in reading difficult texts, such as the Talmud. My uncle got through the entire Encyclopedia Judaica on a "daf a day" program. Many people like to study a chapter of Bible or a psalm each day. You can also read a chapter per week of a more accessible and popular Jewish book. Please feel free to call or email me for suggestions based on your interests.

If you have children in Hebrew School, it's easy to make this a family project. At the end of our Hebrew School year, all our Hebrew School students received a reading list of engaging Jewish books and Hebrew language online games and apps for their ages, along with their "moving up" certificates. Reading a Jewish book aloud as a family on Shabbat is one of my favorite customs from childhood, which I have continued with my children. Please feel free to call or email me if you want help in finding just the right book for your family.

4 High Holiday Preparation. Believe it or not, it's not too early to begin preparing for the High Holidays, both communally and personally. Are you able to participate by serving as an usher (contact Meryl at meryl.kutzin@bisrael.com), volunteering at our children's service (contact our Education Committee at education.chair@bisrael.com), reading from the Torah or Haftarah (contact our Ritual Committee at ritual.chair@bisrael.com) or helping to get the building ready for our largest crowds of the year (contact our House & Grounds Committee at houseandgrounds.chair@bisrael.com)? There are many ways to get involved!

SISTERS IN THE HOOD

Sisterhood hosted a fun night out playing mahjong. Some of us learned the game while others who were more experienced played. This was a fun way to get together, and we will be sure to host another game night in the future so we would love to have more ladies join in the fun.

Sisterhood is planning our annual paid up membership luncheon on June 7th. The restaurant is TBA, so look for announcements. We will plan a trick tray as well.

Remember that Sisterhood has an active book club. If you would like more information and would like to participate, please contact Lisa Pollack at Lisa.pollack@bisrael.com. Also, there will be a Women's shabbat service this summer in August, so be sure to look for announcements for the date and contact Lisa Pollack if you would like to participate.

We've had a busy year and wish everyone a wonderful summer! We look forward to our first planning meeting in the fall, and hope that you will continue your Sisterhood membership, and consider joining Sisterhood if you did not do so this year. Sisterhood funds help promote and support temple wide programming, and we would love as many sisters join as possible!

Israel came to CBI in the form of a mini-shuk where members purchased Israeli products and everyone enjoyed an Israeli style breakfast with borekas, cheeses, yogurt and fruit, humus and pastries. Now CBI is heading to Israel. October is the month. Here's the link: www.israeltour.com/categories/synagogue-tours/Bnai-Israel-Israel-Tour-h.asp

SAC EXCHANGE

This article signals the end of a wonderful year for SAC! Our little group has accomplished so many wonderful things; hosted events, raised awareness and most of all SHOWED UP during events that counted.

Our Schmita Year "Theme" was a great idea, thanks David Schwartz! It helped target and focus our efforts on a wonderful theme which was in step with our heritage.

We will enjoy naming our next SAC year with a new focus.

Special thanks to my Co-Chair, Judy Newell; you are tireless, a best left and right hand, without your steady eye, and efforts, our efforts would have been much harder!!

Renee, your footprint has lead our path towards a continuation of a very important part of CBI's legacy inclusiveness, and action. Thanks so much for paving the way and continuing to be a special part of our team!

Rabbi, your support, from the Bimah to the back room, and e mails! Your communication was not only an energetic source of reference for our programs but cheered us on with materials, and resources, thank you so much!

Victoria, Dan, Don, Arlene, Linda, and Nancy, thanks for Showing Up and creating a group that was cohesive and moved our agenda forward.

We accomplished so much, and thanks to everyone, the SAC team, Karen (add Last name) our Hebrew School Principal and of course Marie, for all of your focus and direction, help with the students and administrative work.

Our agenda for the Schmita Year:

Sept: Food Drive

Oct: Walk for Water

Nov: Mitzvah Day Cleanup of Historic Steuben House Grounds

Dec: Paramus Veteran's Event Hanukah Variety Show

Feb: Hebrew School Green Fair : B'shevat theme and save the planet ideas

March : Feed the Homeless 120 people served

April: Emerson Environmental Committee and SAC cleaned up Emerson

April: Blood Drive

We hope our SAC group will grow next year and invite you and your family to join!

Much appreciation for all of our members efforts and of course, see you next year!!

*Just show up!

PRESIDENT'S CIRCLE

Parents of Children under 17... YES, YOU

Has David Spatz spoken to you? Or perhaps someone else on the board of the synagogue? Because it is the month of June, and we do not yet have all of the work positions filled, nor helpers for committee chair people.

Of course, you are busy. The only people who are not busy are those who have completed their life's work. They are taking a rest, and our life's work is still here, before us, helping others. My friend told me the most important thing in life is "loyalty". This is another way of saying, "HELPING EACH OTHER".

Only volunteers run the synagogue. Rabbi Orenstein and Cantor Mandel, Karen Weiss, all of the Hebrew School teachers, Marie Shust, Bettie, who serves us and Diane, who cleans after us—these are our only paid workers. If you ever took a peek, they do so much more than they are paid for.

Everyone who sets up for your Bar and Bat Mitzvah, gets the walk in fridge ready, opens for the photographer and caterer, gets the sound system up, tweaks the heat and a/c, puts out an amazing Menorah, right as rain, puts out the Shmooz, times announcements in news sources, buys food and drink for the kitchen, preps the food to place out for bagel minyan, plants flowers coming up the walk, fixes the lights which burn out, adjusts the yahrzeit plaques, sends out cards for donations, reaches out to the sick, maintains the yahrzeit list, moves chairs, picks up bobby pins from the rug so they don't jam the vacuum, shuttles things to and from the attic, makes sure there is a minyan—well most of you who don't know of these things, may not even bother to read this. But I hope someone taps you and reminds you, volunteering is for all age groups, especially young families. Congregation B'nai Israel is about your future, and that of your children. They may want to marry here, or bring own families in years to come.

If you believe that it's the "regulars" who are doing the work, or making decisions, you will need to get your tachat off the chair and play a role. I hope you, under 50, will keep this Shul vibrant for those of us who may possibly be over 50. People did it for us, and then we joined them and learned how to keep this sugar shack going.

Nancy Passow, a wonderful, whipper snapper smart woman, with a ton 'o strength, will be our next President. We are lucky to have her and everyone serving with her. But the spirit that is so evident at B'nai Israel comes from the warmth of every person and child here, and even those who came before us. Go find David Spatz, and tell him you want to help with something. He knows where the secret stuff is hidden...

*With affection,
Jamie Kreiman,
President*

Tisha B'av falls this year on July 25. In the weeks leading up to this day, which commemorates the destruction of the Temples in Jerusalem, we mourn the human capacity for destructiveness. The tradition also calls upon us to own that quality in ourselves, facing it squarely and considering how to overcome it. August 15 marks the first day of Elul, the month that is traditionally devoted to reviewing the past year. During this month, God is considered to be especially close ("the King is in the field"), and it is an opportune time for cultivating both repentance and forgiveness. Consider where and with whom you might have done wrong and need to make repairs. Build on your strengths and successes to chart a path for the coming year. Summer leisure affords us time for relaxation, rest, family, community, and learning – and for personal growth as well.

What are your plans for this summer? How might you enrich them with Jewish meaning, learning, celebration, and renewal? If you would like to discuss those questions, please don't hesitate to call on me. I would also love to learn and kvell about your positive and deliberate use of the gift of time during the summer season.

I look forward to hearing about your summer adventures, and to sharing mine with you, in turn. Kayitz na'im! Have a wonderful summer!.

Rabbi Debra Orenstein

Service How-To: everything you ever wanted to know about leading a minyan, delivering a d'var Torah, or chanting Torah and Haftarah, but were reluctant to ask.

On Sunday, June 14, at 9:45 am, following minyan and while you enjoy bagels and coffee, Rabbi Debra Orenstein and other Ritual Mavens in the synagogue will lead a class on "Service How-To: everything you ever wanted to know about leading a minyan, delivering a d'var Torah, or chanting Torah and Haftarah, but were reluctant to ask."

If you are already signed up to chant Haftarah on High Holidays or if you are considering it, if you want to be part of our "shiva squad" and help with the important mitzvah of comforting mourners, if you are filling in for the rabbi and cantor when they are away over the summer, or if you are just curious about how a service is put together, come to learn, discuss, and ask questions. This session will be geared to the needs and interests of those in attendance.

RSVP's are appreciated but not required to Marie in the Temple office.

BAT/BAR MITZVAH MESSAGE

MADLINE ROSENTHAL

My name is Maddie Rosenthal and I am proud to say that I will become a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, June 6th 2015. In my Torah portion, B'ha-alot'kha, Moses and the Israelites are wandering through the desert with only manna as food. As I read through my portion, I recognized that the Israelites complained too much and did not see how much they had in front of them. A lot more of my Torah portion can be found in the book of Numbers, where it talks about complaining and the real definition of it.

In my Torah portion, the Israelites complained about how they missed the meats and vegetables that they had in Egypt. What they didn't understand was that they just were freed out of slavery. The Israelites didn't realize that they were just given a miracle from God. God just freed them out of Egypt, but they had to still complain about their unhappiness with manna.

Looking at 2015 today, all you see is technology. I guess that is a good thing but sometimes it can take control of you. For example, while you're complaining about that new iPhone case that you've been begging for, someone in New York is begging for a dollar so they can still try to support their family. We are all so lucky to have a roof over our head, food on our plate, good health, and loved ones. Some people forget that and don't see the bigger picture. Maybe, sometimes individuals have to look beyond what they want and see what they already have that others don't.

For my Mitzvah project, I hosted a fundraiser for Rett Syndrome using my passion for lacrosse and raised almost $2,000. Rett Syndrome is an "all-girl" disease affecting the nervous system. Why did I choose this? A very close family friend who is my age, has this degenerative neurological disorder. Rett Syndrome doesn't only affect the girl suffering from it, but the entire family. It's not easy raising a child with a disability.

Eric and Robin Diamond have a beautiful daughter named Abby who has Rett Syndrome. This is difficult for the family, but Eric, Robin, and their daughter Jillian work hard to have an optimistic attitude. Positive and proud, Robin shared many stories about her daughter with me: "One of Abby's biggest achievements is never forgetting what she learned yesterday. She improves every day." The reason I chose this cause is because I look up to this family. I don't know how they do it but I never see them complain. Almost every time I've seen the Diamonds they are either getting ready to host a Rett event or just looking at their daughter with pride.

I would love for you all to come to morning Minyan on Sunday, May 31st. Also, come to my Friday night service, June 5th and my Shabbat morning service on Saturday, June 6th. Thank you and I hope to see you there.

JOLIE AND RACHEL NEWMAN

Hi! our names are Jolie and Rachel Newman and our B'not Mitzvah is on Saturday, June 13th. We are so excited to celebrate this very important and special milestone in our lives! We are Seventh Grade students in Woodcliff Lake and attend Woodcliff Middle School.

The name of our Haftorah portion is Shelach Lecha- The Spies and their Report. This portion explains how Moses and Joshua sent out spies from the 12 tribes to check out the new land and make sure it was habitable. It talks about the importance of having a good attitude in life.

Our Mitzvah Project is participating in the BOOST Special Needs Program at the Washington Township YJCC. As Social Buddies we interact and help the children make good choices and guide them for successful social behavior. We will also boost young people's independence and social skills through everyday fun activities such as: art, yoga, cooking, music, swimming and sports. We look forward to these classes and hope to continue to make the children feel good about themselves.

In our free time you can find Jolie reading, writing, creating artwork and going for long bicycle rides with her grandpa. Rachel enjoys dance, gymnastics, basketball and spends her summers at Camp Canadensis. Both girls love traveling with their family and spending time with friends.

We happily look forward to seeing you on our special day and hope you will also join us on Friday, June 12th.

ISABEL VAN GYZEN

Shalom. My name is Isabel Van Gyzen. My Torah portion is Korach from the Book of Numbers. It includes a dramatic episode that happened when the Israelites were wandering in the desert. Moses and Aaron were in charge, but Korach, Datan, Aviram wanted to be in charge, in order to have power, rather than to help the Israelite community. God gave the Israelites signs of who should be in charge, such a flowering rod and a powerful earthquake. As I think about politics, I consider that you have to ask why someone wants to be in charge. Is it for the good of everyone, or just for power?

My mitzvah project was to raise money and awareness for the Brain Alliance of New Jersey. I had a bake sale on opening day of softball and baseball and sold baked goods at the Temple. I distributed lots of pamphlets. Since I had a concussion, I wanted to help others who had one and to teach about preventing concussions. Soon, I expect to teach kindergartens about helmet safety at Solomon Schechter and maybe at other schools, too. Would you please donate to the Brain Injury Alliance of NJ through the box in the Temple lobby or donate at bianj.org.

I will be leading services on Sunday, June 14, Friday, June 19, and Saturday June 20. I hope that you will come to Temple then. Thank you!

Please join our family and friends at the Oneg Shabbat following services on Friday, the 19th of June in honor of our daughter

LETTERS

Dear Idelle and the CBI Executive Board:

Thank you so much for your kind note and wonderful gesture of honoring him with a donation and tree in Israel. Although I have been experiencing profound sadness over the loss of my father, it is my many warm memories of him as well as the support of his many friends like you that is helping fill the void in my heart.

Thank you again, on behalf of my family.

Lori Kadin-Benson

Dear CBI

We can't thank you enough for all that you do for our mother.

Thank you,
Jeawon, Tristan and Courtney Clarke

Dear CBI,

We sincerely appreciate your caring and kindness to our sister Cherylín,

Thank you,
Shari Clarke and Family

To Rabbi Orenstein, Cantor Mandel and my CBI family,

Thank you so much for the gorgeous flowers. They really brightened my days. Most of all, thank you for your kind support and offer to help and prayers.

Sincerely,
Alice Krieger

Dear CBI

It is important to have a place to mourn for a loved one, especially when family lives so far away. Thank you for giving me the place, the warmth and safety to mourn for my mother. The donation to the Jewish fund is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
Shelly

Dear Executive Board,

I want to thank you for everything (the gift basket, the meal and the JNF tree donation). As my father was a lifelong supporter of Israel, he would have appreciated the gift. In this difficult time it is comforting to have the support of the board and the congregation.

Sincerely,
David Gordon and Family

Dear Congregation B'nai Israel

Thank you so much for the beautiful basket you sent to us during this sad time. We appreciate being in your thoughts.
